

Synthetic data for illustration. Values reflect what each protocol's schema is expressive enough to reject at the host before any byte reaches the device — they do NOT account for hand-written application code layered on top.